

Early Music Maui Presents:

Live at the Maui Arts and Cultural Center McCoy Theatre

Bach For Coffee

Saturday, November 6, 2010, 7 p.m.

featuring

Bach's Coffee Cantata

& Telemann's Canary Cantata

with additional early music repertoire

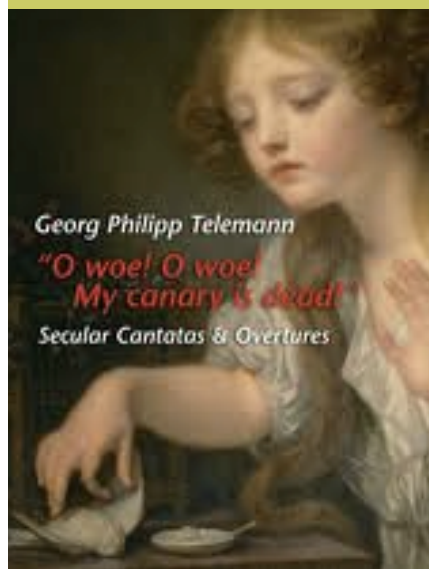

Please join us as acclaimed vocalist

Lauren Pomerantz plays lead Soprano in

Georg Philipp Telemann's "Canary Cantata"

All the musical pieces will be held within a theatrical presentation. Actors playing Bach and Telemann, Early Music Madrigales, and the various soloist cantatas will be presented. Singing both arias and recitatives with Maui's finest early music instrumentalists, Lauren plays "Laurenella, the greatest female singer in Europe." In this highly dramatic story, Laurenella is enthralled with her lovely songbird who thrills all who hear, with its sweet voice and lovely songs. Emotions swing high upon the discovery of the death of her beloved bird, by a rogue cat. Laurenella reels in her grief as memories cascade recalling her love for her songbird and her fury and agony at its' loss. Telemann's work is melodic and emotional in the extreme. Sung in English, translated from German, this tragic comic story will entertain, enchant and delight!

Georg Philipp Telemann
"O woe! O woe!
My canary is dead!"
Secular Cantatas & Overtures